"Gender Pioneers: A Celebration of Transgender, Non-Binary and Intersex Icons" by Philippa Punchard, foreword by Christine Burns MBE c.2022, Jessica Kingsley Publishers $22.95 118 pages

It's always a good idea to know where you're going – but then again, getting lost can have its benefits, too. Veering off an easy path gives you a chance to see things, maybe even something better. You can get all kinds of directions for life but sometimes, as in "Gender Pioneers" by Philippa Punchard, you just gotta step off the road.

In 1912, French audiences were thrilled by the talent of a trapeze artist known as Barquette. The lovely Barquette flew over the heads of Parisians solo, gracefully, and the best citizens followed those performances avidly. By 1919, Babette added to the end of the performance the revelation that "she" was really Vander Clyde Broadway, a male performer.

We might think that being transgender is "new" and just "a Western thing," but Punchard has reason to disagree: history is dotted with men passing as women, and women living as men. As Christine Burns says in the foreword, "Trans people are not a new thing."

Some seemed to do it as a means to an end: Ellen and William Craft wore clothing of the opposite sex in order to escape slavery in 1848. Betty Cooper may have worn men's clothing for the same reason in 1771. Neither case, says Punchard, indicates "classical" trans behavior, but we'll never know for sure.

Biawacheeitchish, who grew up to be powerful, wealthy, with four wives, was kidnapped as a young girl and was encouraged by their Native American adoptive father to engage in male activities, perhaps because he'd lost two sons; in another time and place, Biawacheeitchish would've been called a "female husband." Dora Richter, the first woman to receive vaginoplasty, was killed by "a Nazi mob." Dr. James Barry, a highly renowned surgeon, used "built-up shoes and... padding to appear more masculine..." James Allen and Billy Tipton were both married to women before death revealed that they were female. And Mary Read was a girl, until their mother lost her only son...

In her foreword, Burns says that there are "two awkward challenges" when we talk about trans people in history: were they intersex, rather than trans; and were they people – mostly women – who presented as the opposite gender to gain the benefits of the opposite gender? The questions demand more study and "Gender Pioneers" offers a launching point.

Open this book anywhere and you'll see that the theme here is serious, but author Philippa PUNCHARD also lends a bit of breeze. There's no certain order to what you'll read, and while the entries reach back to ancient times, they focus more on the past three hundred years or so; each of the articles are short and to-the-point, and the soft illustrations invite browsing. For readers who want a quick read, this works.

Be sure to keep going through both appendices of this book, where you'll find a wealth of further information and dates to remember. Historians and readers of trans history will find "Gender Pioneers" just right.

Bowling For Pride

The Greater Dayton LGBT Center is pleased to announce the Annual Fundraiser, "Bowling For Pride" for 2023 at an all new time.

The venue in which the annual bowling event is held has a bowling tournament booked at our usual time, so this necessitated us moving up the event into January. So it is now scheduled by January 28th, 2023.

The weather in January is always dicey at best, so when you "Don Your Gay Apparel" it should be nice warm and cozy inside the bowling alley.

We are now collecting items for our infamous raffle. So if you, your business, or your friends business has items they wish to donate to our raffle, please call the LGBT Center at (937) 274-1776 or email:

info@daytonLGBTcenter.org to make arrangements for drop off or someone to pick up your item or items. Of course, the items that are more adult in nature are also the most fun items. Some items, you may not know what they are for and may scare you a little, but that makes them all the more fun. So please consider a donation of items.

This fundraiser actually kicks off our Pride Season. It is a fundraiser for the PRIDE events in June to help offset the cost of permits, postage, advertising, rentals of tables and chairs. There is a lot of expenses that go along with putting on the PRIDE celebrations and this event marks the beginning of the fundraiser to offset those costs, and a fun way to do it.

So be sure to mark your calendar now and plan to join us on January 28th for this fun event. Be sure to get your tickets early as we have sold out the last few years. Tickets will go on sale at: <https://www.daytonlgbtcenter.org/marketplace>

We look forward to seeing you there!

TRANSGENDER

REMEMBRANCE

We Remember, We Unite, We Honor

November 20th 7:00pm

Sinclair Community College Bld 12

Transgender Day Of Remembrance 2022

Transgender Day of Remembrance, (TDOR) has been observed annually on November 20th as a day to memorialize those who have been murdered as a result of transphobia. The day was founded to draw attention to the continued violence endured by transgender people.

This vigil event will be held at Sinclair Community College in building 12 this year at 7 PM, an ASL interpreter will be provided.

The Transgender Day of Remembrance raises public awareness of hate crimes against transgender people and publicly mourns and honors the lives of transgender people who might otherwise be forgotten. Through the vigil, we express love and respect in the face of national indifference and hatred. Day of Remembrance gives transgender people and their allies a chance to step forward and stand in vigil, memorializing those who've died by anti-transgender violence. Putting on the Day of Remembrance in schools can also be used as a way to educate students, teachers, and administrators about transgender issues, so we can try to prevent anti-transgender further hatred and violence.

The Keynote speaker for this event is Gavin Grimm. Grimm brought suit against his local school board in 2015 for not allowing him to use the boys bathroom. Grimm alleged that the Gloucester County School Board engaged in sex discrimination in violation of his rights under federal law and the U.S. Constitution, and asked a lower court to order the school to allow him to use the facilities. On April 19, 2016, a 2-1 decision marked the first time a federal court has ruled that Title IX, a federal law that prohibits gender discrimination in public schools, protects transgender individuals and their right to use the bathroom that aligns with their identity. The School Board appealed this ruling and The Supreme Court vacated the appeal of Bostock v Clayton County to uphold the lower courts decision.

Plan now to attend and meet Gavin on November 20th at 7 pm. Free Parking is available in the underground lot, enter parking garage via 4th street entrance.
